Special Educational Needs and Disabilities Information Report 2018-2019

At Wrockwardine Wood Infant School and Nursery we are committed to the inclusion of all pupils, whatever their abilities and needs.

This information report is intended to give you information about the ways in which we ensure we support our children so that they can achieve their full potential. Our provision is regularly modified to meet the changing requirements for individuals.

WHAT TYPES OF SPECIAL EDUCATIONAL NEEDS (SEN) DO WE PROVIDE FOR?

Some children have needs or disabilities that affect their ability to learn. We address the needs of children using the four main areas of need as outlined in the Code of Practice 2015, which are:

- Communication and Interaction

Speech, Language and Communication Needs (SLCN)- This includes children who have difficulty saying what they want to or understanding what is being said to them and children who do not understand or use social rules of communication.

Autistic Spectrum Disorder (ASD)- Children with ASD are likely to have particular difficulties with social interaction. They may also experience difficulties with language, communication and imagination, which can impact on how they relate to others.

- Cognition and Learning

This includes children whose learning difficulty could result in them learning at a slower pace than their peers, even with appropriate differentiation. Learning difficulties cover a wide range of needs and includes, for example, children who have Moderate Learning Difficulties (MLD) and children who have a Specific Learning Difficulty (SpLD) such as Dyslexia, Dyscalculia or Dyspraxia.

- Social, Emotional & Mental Health (SEMH)

Children may experience a wide range of social and emotional difficulties which manifest themselves in many ways. They may include becoming withdrawn or isolated, as well as displaying challenging behaviours, along with children who may have disorders such as Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder (ADHD) or Attachment Disorder (AD).

- Sensory and /or Physical

This includes children who require special educational provision because they have a disability which prevents or hinders them from making use of educational facilities generally provided. This includes Visual Impairment (VI), Hearing Impairment (HI), Multi-Sensory Impairment (MSI) and Physical Disability (PD).

HOW DO WE IDENTIFY AND ASSESS PUPILS WITH SEN?

We follow the four-part cycle (Assess, Plan, Do, Review) and recognise that identifying needs at the earliest point and then providing the right support, improves outcomes for the child.

Children are identified as having SEND through a variety of ways, usually a combination, which may include some of the following:

- Concerns raised by a parent
- Child performing below 'age expected' levels or equivalent lack of progress over time
- Information from previous settings
- Information from other services
- Concerns raised by a teacher
- Liaison with external agencies

Observations are made in a variety of contexts and monitored by the SENCO. Teachers are responsible for the progress and attainment of children in their class. They are able to observe children and identify any concerns they may have regarding a child. Teachers will then develop strategies for supporting children who require additional help. In the first instance this will be through First Quality Teaching. If a child is still experiencing difficulties even after thorough differentiation and outstanding teaching, then further interventions would be put into place. This may be within small groups or on a one to one basis. If a parent or teacher feels that a child has a specific difficulty then the SENCO would become involved and the child may receive further support via other professionals.

WHAT IS OUR APPROACH TO SEND?

The SEN register operates a graduated response. Children can only be added to the register with the full permission of the parents. All children on the SEN register have an Individual Provision Map (IPM) written for them by the class teacher which identifies targets, interventions and strategies to be used to reach these targets and thorough evaluations. These are discussed with parents and monitored by the SENCO every half term. School staff regularly review all children's progress and monitor children with concerns. Those children with on-going concerns may be referred to the appropriate agency with the permission of parents. Where children have additional needs they will be supported in accessing the full curriculum.

Individual risk assessments are carried out where appropriate to ensure the safety of children with additional needs.

If concerns still remain following a full intervention programme then the school will request an EHCP assessment by the local authority.

The Graduated Response is:

- SEN Concern- A child is identified as requiring some additional intervention to support progress
- SEN Support- Class teachers or the SENCO will discuss a child's needs with a parent and decide what support will be necessary. This will then be provided within school. We can request additional support for a child from another professional and their advice will be acted upon.

SEN support should arise from a four-part cycle, known as the graduated response, through which earlier decisions and actions are revisited, refined and revised, leading to a growing understanding of the child's needs and of what supports them in making good progress and securing good outcomes.

The four stages of the cycle are:

- Assess
- Plan
- Do
- Review

The graduated response starts at whole school level. Teachers are continually assessing, planning, implementing and reviewing their approach to teaching all children. However, where a potential special educational need has been identified, this cyclical process becomes increasingly personalised:

- Individualised assessment leads to a growing understanding of the barriers to and the gaps in a child's learning
- Continual reflection on approaches to meeting the child's needs leads to a growing understanding of strategies that enable the child to make good progress and achieve good outcomes.

In this cycle of support, the graduated response draws on more personalised approaches, more frequent review and more specialist expertise in successive cycles in order to tailor interventions to meet the particular needs of our children.

- Request for an Education, Health and Care Plan Assessment- Schools or parents can request an assessment be carried out by the Local Authority if the child continues to experience specific difficulties. Professionals involved with a child's education would be required to submit evidence to the authority about the individual's needs and suggest what should be done to meet these needs.
- An Education, Health and Care Plan may be issued following this assessment. It would describe a child's specific needs and explain how these needs should be met. These are reviewed annually through the Annual Review process.

- Cool Kids movement programme
- Talking Maths groups
- Precision Teaching

HOW DO WE ADAPT THE CURRICULUM AND LEARNING ENVIRONMENT?

We work in partnership with a number of outside professionals and develop the expertise of our staff through training so that we can provide an appropriate curriculum and engaging learning environment for all pupils.

HOW DO WE CONSULT WITH PARENTS OF PUPILS WITH SEN AND INVOLVE THEM IN THEIR CHILD'S EDUCATION?

We operate an 'open door' policy and staff will always make themselves available for any parent who requests a meeting to discuss their child or any concerns they have. Parents and children are welcomed at the door by a member of the class teaching team and have the opportunity to share any information.

Parents attend induction meetings within Nursery and Reception where they can ask any questions they may have or to share information. They attend 'Stay and Play' sessions within the Nursery. Parents of children in Nursery have daily opportunities to settle their child to an activity before leaving

Parents are invited into school on a regular basis to attend:

- Reading morning
- Maths games morning
- Parents consultation evenings
- Curriculum week
- Christmas Performances
- Eating lunch with their child
- Church services
- Termly meetings for children to share their theme books with parents.
- Parent workshops or information meetings e.g. Year 1 phonic screening
- Exit point activities at the end of a theme of work

If parents have a concern about their child, they are welcome to discuss this at any time with their child's class teacher.

Parents of children on the SEN register meet the class teacher regularly to discuss and evaluate the progress towards the targets on their child's Individual Provision Map (IPM) and their contribution is noted.

For children who have been issued with an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP), parents also attend an Annual Review of the plan with the school SENCO, Head teacher and other professionals involved in the support for their child.

Parents are encouraged to visit www.parentview.ofsted.gov.uk to complete a questionnaire about the school.

HOW DO WE CONSULT WITH PUPILS WITH SEN AND INVOLVE THEM IN THEIR EDUCATION?

We allow daily opportunities for our children to discuss their learning and where they may be experiencing difficulties. This allows clear assessment for learning and for teaching and learning opportunities to be modified in response to the children. It ensures children make rapid progress within every lesson. Children who are on the SEN register have the opportunity to comment on the targets set for them on their Individual Provision Map (IPM). This provides the children with a chance to help develop their own personalised learning programme, discussing strategies that work well for them. We are fully aware that children all learn in different ways and they know themselves best.

HOW DO WE ASSESS AND REVIEW PUPILS PROGRESS TOWARDS THEIR OUTCOMES?

Teaching staff monitor and review the progress of all children within their class. Data is scrutinised by the SENCO, Subject Leaders, the EYFS or KS1 leader and the assessment co-ordinator to ensure that interventions and provision is having a marked impact on learning.

For children on the SEN register, the class teacher and SENCO also review and evaluate their IPMs every half term to ensure the targets are being met. If a referral to another professional for further support is necessary, these are completed by class teachers and discussed with the SENCO and parents.

Termly, the link governor for SEND children works with the SENCO to ensure policies are implemented and appropriate provision is in place for all children. The curriculum committee meet termly to monitor the progress of all children in school.

The Headteacher, Learning Mentor, SENCO and class teacher meet regularly with other professionals to ensure SEND provision is appropriate and effective.

At the end of the academic year class teachers pass on relevant information and IPMs to the new class teacher at planned transition meetings.

HOW DO WE SUPPORT PUPILS MOVING BETWEEN DIFFERENT PHASES OF EDUCATION?

Early Years Foundation Stage

Children joining our school in the Early Years in either Nursery or Reception undertake a robust induction programme. Over a number of weeks Nursery children will build up to a 15 hour placement.

Reception children will spend a number of sessions with their new teacher in their new classroom and will be joined by their parents for part of this time. They will then spend the first week in September attending school for mornings only and one afternoon, building up to full days in the second week. An induction meeting takes place for parents led by the Headteacher and during the summer break children receive a postcard from the teacher to keep in touch before their first day at school in September.

Where pupils have additional needs on entry to Nursery or to Reception, this process can last longer and may include many more visits to help build relationships with new adults. This would be in discussion with parents and other agencies as appropriate.

Children with additional needs are supported as appropriate according to their specific needs to enable a successful transition to be achieved.

Key Stage One

A transition programme is in place for children when they move classes each year within school. The following is in place:

- Teachers meet to discuss the child's learning, emotional well-being and any other information to ensure a smooth transition
- Children will visit their classroom, some children may make extra visits
- The teacher will begin to build relationships with the children on the playground and around school
- Friendships are taken into account when classes are organised
- Books and assessment information is passed onto the next class
- Some children may have a 'passport', this is a booklet about them and it helps the adults get to know the child and their needs.

There is also a strong transition programme in place for children who transfer to the junior school at the end of Year 2.

- Teachers meet to discuss the child's learning, emotional well-being and any other information to ensure a smooth transition
- Children will visit their new school, some children may make extra visits
- The teacher will begin to build relationships by visiting the Year 2 classes to see the children working.
- Friendships are taken into account when classes are organised
- Books and assessment information is passed onto the next class
- The SENCO and Headteachers meet to discuss provision.
- Transition meetings are held if children have specific needs or a disability.
- The SENCO will attend the last annual review before the children transfer
- Some children may have a 'passport', this is a booklet about them and it helps the adults get to know the child and their needs.
- A transition project is also planned. The children begin this piece of work at the Infant School and complete at the Junior School.

HOW DO WE SUPPORT PUPILS WITH SEN TO IMPROVE THEIR EMOTIONAL AND SOCIAL DEVELOPMENT?

All our children are supported through our Personal, Social, Emotional Development scheme of work which is called 'Jigsaw'. Our school are also part of the 'Future in Mind' project which aims to develop the emotional health and wellbeing of all children and adults within the school community. Children who require additional support in these areas will also have access to social stories on a daily basis. Parents are signposted to access BEAM drop in sessions if they feel it may benefit them to support their child in the home.
